"Active Learning" is an innovative approach to helping children with multiple impairments thrive, learn and grow developed by Dr. Lilli Nielsen. Patty Obrzut, Assistant Director of the Penrickton Center for Blind Children, will help you sharpen your skills with children whether you are in the role of teacher, therapist or parent. Learn how to promote skills attainment and independence in children of all developmental ages. "Active Learning" allows the use of simple adaptations in the environment and the use of equipment to encourage a child's exploration, play and independent activity. Activity is the key to learning. You will observe children using the Hopsadress, Little Room, Support Bench, Esfef Board, Resonance Board and more. We will review activity ideas and the FIELA Curriculum. Both parents and providers are welcome.

Participants may earn 0.6 SB-CEUs for attending this course.
